COMMENTS OF EXELON CORPORATION

Exelon Corporation submits these comments in response to the Department of Homeland Security's ("Department") notice of proposed rulemaking to implement Section 214, Title II of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (Pub.L. 107-296).

Exelon generally supports the Department's rulemaking initiative and recognizes the importance of creating procedures that will encourage the communication and cooperation between the government and the energy industry regarding the protection of the Nation's critical infrastructure. Exelon does, however, share the concern of the North American Electric Reliability Council ("NERC") and the Edison Electric Institute ("EEI") regarding section 29.6(f) of the proposed regulation and supports their suggestion that it be deleted in its entirety, or at least modified as proposed. Moreover, Exelon believes that NERC's and EEI's other suggestions for clarification are beneficial to the proposed rule.

Accordingly, rather than repeat the identical suggestions at length in its comments, Exelon hereby expresses its strong support of the comments submitted by NERC and EEI.

Respectfully submitted,

s/A. Karen Hill
